Executive Proclamation
Office of the Governor

Whereas, Sanro Clifford Fink began his education at age four in a country school in South Dakota; at age sixteen, he graduated from high school in Ashley, North Dakota; and,

Whereas, Sanro entered the Army on April 1, 1965. He was honorably discharged on March 31, 1967, but felt he still had work to do, so he was a member of the Army Reserve from 1973 through 1980; and,

Whereas, Sanro began his 34-year career of dedicated service with the state of South Dakota on September 27, 1971 as an office services assistant in the mail room of the Department of Labor; and,

Whereas, Sanro quickly rose through the ranks as a computer operator, programmer, programmer analyst and finally as a senior programmer analyst with the Department of Labor and the Bureau of Information and Telecommunications; and,

Whereas, Sanro has decided to retire and begin his travels to Hawaii and Alaska and to spend more time with his wife, Carol, their daughters, Lisa and Kristin and the light of their lives, granddaughter, Kiera; and,

Whereas, It is fitting and proper as Governor to make note of this outstanding South Dakotan on the occasion of his retirement from the Bureau of Information and Telecommunications:

Now, Therefore, I, M. Michael Rounds, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim July 1, 2005, as in South Dakota, and I join with his family and friends, in wishing him a fulfilling and happy retirement.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Seventeenth Day of June in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Five.

M. Michael Rounds, Governor

Attest:

Chris Nelson, Secretary of State
